U. S. Expected To Urge Reds Expand Truce

Renunciation Of Force Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is expected to press the Chinese Communists Friday to expand the current Quemoy cease-fire into a general renunciation of force in the Formosa area.

Authoritative sources said they understood Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had instructed U. S. Ambassador Jacob D. Beam to take such a task in his Warsaw meeting Friday with Chinese Communist envoy Wang Ping-nan.

The secretary's instructions to Beam were reported to have gone out late Thursday.

Officials indicated that Beam still had not been authorized to discuss possible steps by this country to eliminate what the Reds consider "provocations" in the Formosa area until it has become clear there will be a dependable cease-fire.

The present uneasy seven-day truce is scheduled to end next Sunday unless the Reds prolong it.

Both Dulles and President Eisenhower have offered to consider negotiations to eliminate some of the thorny points in the Formosa dispute—but only after the Communists have given definite assurances that the bombardment of Quemoy will not be renewed.

It was expected that Beam, in pressing for a renunciation of force by the Communists, will emphasize that the United States already has said such a renunciation also should be binding on the Nationalists too.

He also was expected to repeat the American position that such a renunciation would not prejudice the basic claims of either side.

Dulles approved the U. S. strategy in the face of a Chinese Nationalist demand that President Eisenhower break off the Warsaw talks.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said earlier in this connection that the whole purpose of this country's participation in the talks with Wang was to arrange a cease-fire.

Some optimism was expressed in official Washington circles that the Communists would agree to an extension of the cease-fire.

Intelligence sources said there was no reliable evidence to back up speculation that the Reds might have suspended the attack to bring up heavier guns or improve their supply situation in the Amoy area.

In addition, officials said, the lull has given the Nationalists a chance to replenish food and ammunition stocks on Quemoy.

Death Of Pope Mourned In All Parts Of World

By The Associated Press

The world mourned the death of Pope Pius XII Thursday to the somber tolling of church bells. Men of all faiths paid tribute to the dead leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics. Thousands in many lands went to cathedrals and churches for masses repeated every half hour.

A 10-day period of mourning was proclaimed in Catholic Spain. Similar mourning periods were decreed in several Latin American countries.

Back of the Iron Curtain, for the most part, there was only brief mention in press and radio of the passing of the outspoken enemy of world communism.

But in Communist Yugoslavia, requiem masses were ordered in all Roman Catholic churches in Belgrade. The government radio, however, mentioned the Pope's death only briefly.

In Communist Poland, thousands of Polish Catholics prayed in the churches. Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński ordered the papal flag, draped in mourning crepe, flown from his palace in Warsaw. In predominantly Catholic Ireland, radios broadcast solemn music, and all flags flew at half staff.

Flags were lowered to half staff over all the pavilions at the World's Fair in Brussels, even the Soviet. Loudspeakers were silenced, and the tolling of the bells came clear from the pavilion of the Holy See.

The heritage of peace and good will for all mankind left by Pius XII was recounted in many expressions of sorrow at his passing. Foreign Minister Golda Meir of Israel recalled the Pope was an outspoken foe of oppression of Jews.

A statement from the Foreign Office of Japan said the Pope had "worked earnestly on behalf of Japanese war criminals and for the prohibition of nuclear weapons."

It was the 26-year-old Anderson, S.C., native's first public interview since touching down.

"The sky is blacker than night sky," he told Mullinax. "It is a deep black that is indescribable, really."

McClure was expected to stay aloft 24 hours. The balloon and its sealed metal cockpit capsule were brought to the ground Wednesday night because of a rise in capsule heat and humidity.

Worker Survives 147-Foot Plunge; No Bones Broken

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A workman fell 147 feet Thursday from a smoketank under construction. X-rays showed no broken bones.

The workman, Joe Jackson, 27, Ravenna, Ohio, suffered internal injuries. He was listed in satisfactory condition in a local hospital.

Jackson's fall, attributed to a snapped hoist, was broken by a wooden platform about 12 feet from the bottom of the stack.

Kablier R. Dixon, 36, of Richmond, atop the smoketank with Jackson, received a broken ankle when struck by Jackson in his plunge. Dixon did not fall.

The men were employed by a firm building an addition to a Virginia Electric and Power Co. plant.

Balloon Flight Provides Clues

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — The future of the Air Force's project to send manned balloons to the stratosphere may hinge on a short-ened flight just completed.

An Air Force spokesman said Thursday it is "certainly too early to say" what tests are planned next in the Man High project.

But the questions answered by Lt. Clifton McClure Wednesday during a 12-hour, 99,600-foot flight are expected to provide clues "on hundreds of questions that must be answered before man ventures further into space," the Air Force said.

In a telephone interview with Wally Mullinax of radio station WESC at Greenville, S.C., Thursday McClure said the edge of space is like living in a "fluorescent tube."

It was the 26-year-old Anderson, S.C., native's first public interview since touching down.

"The sky is blacker than night sky," he told Mullinax. "It is a deep black that is indescribable, really."

McClure was expected to stay aloft 24 hours. The balloon and its sealed metal cockpit capsule were brought to the ground Wednesday night because of a rise in capsule heat and humidity.

West Seeks A-Test Halt During Talks

U.S. And Britain Seek To Bring U.N. Pressure On Soviet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States and Britain sought Thursday to bring United Nations pressure on Russia to agree to stop testing nuclear weapons during the forthcoming Big Three conference on the subject in Geneva.

The allies were working out a draft resolution to present to the 81-nation main political committee. It will be offered to counter resolutions from the Soviet Union and India calling for immediate nuclear weapons test bans.

U. S. Tactical Victory

The United States scored a tactical victory over the Soviet Union in the main political committee Thursday. It won by a vote of 50-9 with 19 abstentions on its motion to hold a general debate on three agenda items simultaneously—disarmament, reduction of military budgets and cessation of nuclear tests.

The order of voting on any resolutions will be decided later. The Soviet Union had sought to force immediate debate on cessation of nuclear weapons tests separate from the other two items. The procedural haggles took up two days of the committee's time.

Lodge Due To Open Debate

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was expected to make the opening statement when the disarmament debate gets underway Friday and he probably will be followed by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin.

Britain and the United States, in letters to the Soviet Union, have proposed that the three powers meet in Geneva Oct. 31 to talk about a controlled halt to nuclear weapons tests.

They proposed at the same time to call a one-year moratorium on such tests provided the Soviet Union does also.

The Soviet Union has agreed to the date for the start of the talks but wants them on a foreign ministers' level. But it has threatened to continue tests until its explosions numerically equal those of the United States and Britain.

At Least 13 Die In Plane Crash

PAYETTE, Idaho (UPI) — An Air Force C123 transport plane with 19 persons aboard crashed Thursday night six miles north of New Plymouth, Idaho, and Air Force officials said 13 bodies had been removed from the wreckage.

New Plymouth is about 10 miles south of Payette in southwestern Idaho near the Oregon border.

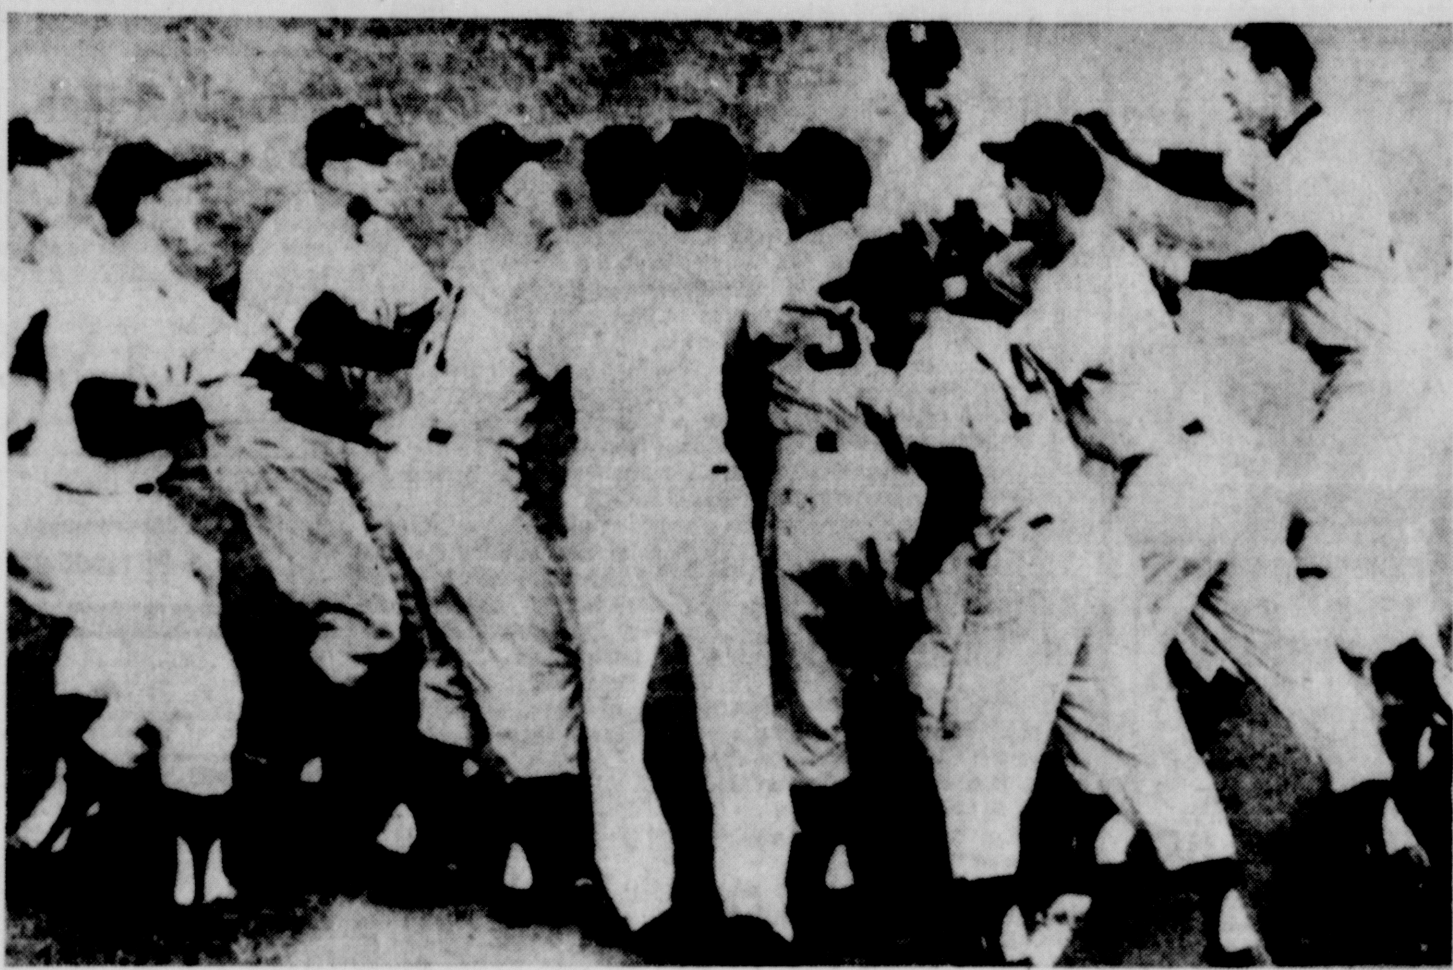

Officials at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho, confirmed that the aircraft was a C123 which took off from Hill Air Force Base, Utah, enroute to Tacoma, Wash.

Officers said the plane originally took off from Pope Field, N.C., its home base.

Gossamer Shower

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — Another gossamer shower greeted sky gazers in the Portales area Thursday.

Skins of spider webs could be seen hanging over telephone lines and glinting in the sunshine. Biologists have said the webs are a manifestation of spider flights through the wild blue yonder.

Chehab Moves To Avert New Lebanon Strife

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—President Fuad Chehab was prepared to take over Lebanon with an emergency military government Thursday night but followers of Premier Rashid Karami threatened to upset the move with angry demonstrations.

Chehab, former commander-in-chief of the Lebanese Army forces, stepped personally into the weeks-long crisis at noon Thursday when Karami placed the resignation of his government at the president's disposal.

Chehab summoned the two top leaders of the warring factions to his home at Jounieh for urgent consultations on measures to avert a possible civil war.

He met separately with Saeb Salam, a Karami supporter and leader of the Beirut rebels against former President Camille Chamoun, and with Pierre Gemayel, leader of the pro-Chamoun Christian Phalangists.

With Salam and Gemayel sitting in different rooms, Chehab hammered out the outlines of a military cabinet to pull Lebanon back from the brink of the civil war towards which it has appeared to be drifting for the past weeks.

It was reliably reported that agreement on the top posts in the six-man government of four army officers and two civilians was reached.

But a new and jarring element was introduced Thursday night when some 2,000 pro-Karami Lebanese demonstrated against his reported resignation in front of his home in Beirut's Mosien Basta sector.

Officially, Salam was reported to be "not in favor of a military government but would not work against it."

Gemayel was reported ready to agree to a military government. But the reports said Gemayel was not sure he could get Chamoun to approve.

Butler Feuding With La. Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler held Thursday that Louisiana Democratic leaders, up in arms in an integration quarrel, had no right to fire their national committeeman.

Butler refused to recognize the ouster vote as genuine and said he would fight it "with all of the vigor at my command."

The Democratic State Central Committee declared by vote of 69-30 Wednesday that C. A. Miller Gravel Jr. was no longer representing Louisiana on the Democratic National Committee.

Gravel is a 43-year-old Alexandria lawyer who had expressed a belief that racial segregation is morally wrong. He had also supported the 1956 party platform declaration on civil rights, which said federal action is needed to eradicate discrimination.

Leander Perez, a leading segregationist, said Gravel had been working closely with Butler and could be expected to "go along with the Northern radical wing of the party."

Chiang Asserts New Attack Would Speed End Of China's Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek told his people Friday Communist resumption of the attack on Quemoy would hasten the end of Communist rule in Peiping.

Red enlargement of the hostilities, he said, would "invite common action by the free world's antiaggression forces, and this concentrated attack would hasten the end of the Chinese Communists."

He forecast a mainland revolution would help in the overthrow.

This was the gist of a 1,500-word message to troops and civilians celebrating Nationalist China's Independence Day—the 47th anniversary of the 1911 revolution that led to the establishment of the Republic of China.

A flurry of other developments came on the eve of the anniversary as Communist guns remained silent under Peiping's seven-day cease-fire order.

1. Chiang's landing ships, no longer under U.S. Navy escort but watched over by Nationalist gunboats, poured heavy cargoes to the Quemoy Islands in preparation for Red renewal of the offshore battle. A U.S. military adviser estimated that seven craft which landed at Liaofo Beach carried 7,000 tons—enough for minimum needs of Quemoy itself for almost three weeks. Among the supplies were cement for fortifications and charcoal for cooking and heating.

2. About 1,100 of Quemoy's 47,000 civilians were evacuated to Formosa. Most of these were students and teachers of the shell-damaged Kinnmen (Quemoy) High School, unable to open this fall. The 964 students will be enrolled at schools in the Taipei area.

3. The chief magistrate of Little China disclosed that Nationalist China is offering to move to Formosa all the 3,789 civilians living on that shell-battered island, second largest of the Quemoy group. But he said many—mostly young persons armed and trained in civil defense—wanted to stay despite the dangers and hardships of life only three miles from mainland guns.

4. Foreign Minister Huang Shao-wan declared in an Independence Day speech the Nationalists will never give up Quemoy and Matsu as the price for a permanent cease-fire. He said the Communists have concentrated 400,000 troops opposite the islands and made virtually impossible any reduction in "our (Nationalist) forces... less than one-fifth" that strong.

5. The railways refused to accept cargo and trucking companies accepted only a small fraction of their usual loads.

La Cubana bus line which operates regular scheduled passenger service between Havana and Santiago announced Wednesday it had been forced to suspend operations because of rebel sabotage which had destroyed 23 of its modern air-conditioned buses.

Slain Faisal Left $500,000 In N.Y. Bank

NEW YORK (AP)—King Faisal II of Iraq, slain in the revolt that overthrew his government last July 14, left $500,000 in cash and securities in a New York City bank, it was disclosed Thursday in surrogates court.

This became known when the late King's aunt applied to Surrogate S. Samuel di Falco for an order allowing the City Bank Farmer Trust Co. to administer the assets now in the Irving Trust Co.

Surrogate di Falco granted the application submitted by Emira Princess Rajha of London.

Nation's Population Nears 175 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's estimated population will reach 175 million about 11 a. m. e.d.t. next Thursday, the Commerce Department said Thursday.

The department's "population scoreboard" in the lobby of the Commerce Building will register the figure about that time.

The scoreboard, which shows the average effect of changes in the population, registers a net increase of one every 11 seconds.

Rebels Hurting Cuban Economy

HAVANA (UPI)—The guerrilla squads of rebel chieftain Fidel Castro were reported Thursday to have cut Cuba virtually in two by severing railway and highway communications between Havana and Santiago in easternmost Oriente Province. Normal trade and travel between the two sections were choked off.

Reports from Camaguey, in the center of the island, said construction projects in the area had come to a standstill for lack of cement and other materials which had not reached Camaguey in the past 10 days following the destruction of vital railway bridges east of Camaguey by the rebels.

Reconstruction of the damaged bridges was hampered by rebel snipers who were firing on soldiers and workers alike, the reports said.

The railways refused to accept cargo and trucking companies accepted only a small fraction of their usual loads.

La Cubana bus line which operates regular scheduled passenger service between Havana and Santiago announced Wednesday it had been forced to suspend operations because of rebel sabotage which had destroyed 23 of its modern air-conditioned buses.

Thousands Of Mourners Jam Roads

Pontiff's Remains Will Be Returned To Vatican City Today

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Thousands of mourners filed past the body of Pope Pius XII Thursday night in humble obeisance to the pontiff who died here earlier in the day.

They packed the main square before the papal summer palace and jammed the roads leading to this small town in the Alban Hills, 15 miles southeast of Rome. Police had to stop traffic into the town early in the evening.

The body of the Pope lay in state in the palace. Friday, it will be returned to the Vatican for formal mourning and burial services.

A Vatican spokesman said the pontiff's body will be carried in a glass-sided hearse so that other thousands along the route will be able to view it on the stately procession to Vatican City.

At one time the mourners so filled the palace square it was almost impossible for a person to lift his hands from his side or to move.

15,000 Pass Bier

The Rev. Francesco Pellegrino, director of the Vatican radio, broadcast an appeal to the throng to move slowly and carefully and avoid injury.

The gates were opened at dusk and the crowd of 15,000 men, women and children began filtering through.

The usual time for closing the palace gates is 10 p.m., and about 500 persons remained in the line then. Police allowed them past the palace gates, then swung them shut.

Inside Swiss Guards in blue, red and orange uniforms sought to channel the great throng into a narrow column going up the broad main marble stairway toward the Swiss Hall on the top floor of the four-story building.

The embalmed body of the pontiff lay dressed in white and red on a platform covered with red silk. A film of cellophane was stretched over the body.

The body was guarded by noble guards of the pontifical court in 18th century uniforms.

Embalming Delays Viewing

In addition to the residents of Castel Gandolfo and the surrounding area specifically invited to file past the remains of the Pope who died in their midst, there were many persons from other parts of Italy in the throng and also some foreigners.

Many fathers carried small children on their shoulders. There were many priests and nuns. Some of the crowd carried bouquets of white flowers and wreaths of red ones. The public viewing of the body was delayed two hours because the embalming had not been completed.

The Rev. Francesco Pellegrino, director of the Vatican radio station, explained the delay to the crowd by loudspeaker, saying a careful job of embalming was necessary "because we want the body to last 100 years."

Death of the 82-year-old pontiff after 19½ years as head of the Roman Catholic Church plunged much of the Christian world into mourning.

Papal Chamberlain Named

The body will be taken to Rome privately Friday at the start of nine days of mourning. It will be placed in a crypt below St. Peter's Basilica Sunday or Monday.

At the Vatican, cardinals from in and around Rome chose Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi Masella as papal chamberlain to administer church affairs until a new pope is chosen.

Cardinal Aloisi Masella, 74, is archbishop of the Basilica of St. John Lateran, which was the See of the Pope as bishop of Rome.

Msr. Alberto de Jorio, regent of the sacred college's secretariat, was named secretary of the consistory of cardinals that will elect the new pope. The cardinals must meet within 18 days to begin selection of the new pontiff. From as far away as Sydney, Australia, the cardinals—there are 55 living—began heading toward Rome.

Faubus Tax Case Not Closed, IRS Says In Pushing Inquiry Into '10-Day Letter'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—the government was set up as a letter" that is, had given him 10 days to defend himself against demands for income taxes on $105,499.14.

"It is likely," White replied. "At this point, I am not able to tell whether an honest mistake was made," White said.

"The case is not closed. I will make a report to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and may return to Little Rock. I do not know the dimension of the error as yet."

Faubus announced Tuesday that the IRS had sent him a "10-day letter" that is, had given him 10 days to defend himself against demands for income taxes on $105,499.14.

More than half of the amount the letter said was taxable was rent on the executive mansion, servants' wages and mansion upkeep, which are furnished by state law and are not taxable.

Faubus telegraphed all the other governors, asking them whether they paid income taxes on their state-owned executive mansions, and demanded that President Eisenhower pay for using the White House.

District Director Curtis R. Mathis said, "somebody goofed," and it was Lewis D. Crenshaw, 59, who sent the letter to Faubus.

Mathis had advised Faubus it was all a mistake and a thorough investigation was in progress.

White, who came to Little Rock Thursday from Dallas, Tex., to investigate, said he concurred in Mathis' statements only to the extent that the 10-day letter was sent to Faubus prematurely.

"I would not want to imply that there is any fraud involved in the governor's tax returns," he said.

Bank Porter Jailed For "Chute" Racket

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Oliver T. Guest, 32, admitted putting a sign on the night deposit chute at the bank where he worked as a porter. It said:

"Out of order. Leave deposit with porter."

The FBI said customers left $1,100 with Guest. Then he left town. He later was arrested in California. The chute wasn't out of order at all.

U.S. District Judge Roy M. Shelbourne sentenced him to two years in prison Thursday.

McKeldin, Head Of State Police To Air Report

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. McKeldin has called Col. Elmer F. Munshower to a conference Friday at which the State Police superintendent will be asked to correct any "administrative deficiencies or outdated practices."

A spokesman for the governor said the meeting was set up to discuss the controversial report of the Criminal Justice Commission which severely criticized State Police handling of three traffic warrants which went unserved for 14 months.

The commission also called for an official investigation by the House of Delegates of "indications of other improprieties . . . with respect to the use of improper influence upon state troopers as well as trial magistrates in the performance of their duties."

Gov. McKeldin already has said he will not call a special session of the Legislature so that the House can convene under its unique power as a "grand inquest."

And the Legislative Council Wednesday also rejected the idea that the Legislature should act or that its power of subpoena was necessary for a full study of the "other improprieties." The council said the matter is one of executive responsibility, subject to administrative correction by the governor.

Devereux Raps Demo Rival On Oyster Issue

By The Associated Press

James P. Devereux, Republican candidate for governor, sounded off Thursday night in the heart of the oyster country, that his Democratic opponent has failed to suggest any way to boost production.

"You have a public leader, born and reared here, who should be giving you the only obvious answer to this problem," Devereux said in a speech prepared for a Cambridge radio broadcast.

"And if he would do so, if he would meet this public responsibility, your oyster problem would not be a public issue in this campaign."

"If J. Millard Tawes would also come out, publicly supporting this answer, the campaign could get on to other important matters affecting the entire state."

Devereux said the "answer" is contained in the Republican campaign platform.

That is "to have the State of Maryland lease its barren bottoms as oyster farms."

Devereux said watermen, "singly or in groups," would be given first opportunity to lease and be offered state financial aid.

The Republican candidate said Tawes, who "boasts his origin on the Eastern Shore and assures the voters here that Eastern Shore problems are his own, has apparently only one thought on oysters—further study."

"Further study—that is the concrete answer we get on the state's financial policies, from a professional politician who has been Maryland's top fiscal authority for 17 years."

"Is it that Tawes can't talk—only double talk?"

The Democratic party platform plank on oysters recommends study with the Department of Tidewater Fisheries. Tawes named a commission to study state fiscal policies and report after the Nov. 4 election.

U.S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall, who accompanied Devereux in their Eastern Shore tour and on radio, argued with his Democratic opponent over unemployment.

Beall claimed that Thomas D. Alesandro had misrepresented facts about unemployment.

The Republican candidate for reelection said employment is booming "everywhere in the country but in Baltimore City."

He said job opportunities in the city have suffered because D'Alesandro as mayor imposed a new tax on manufacturers this year.

Wash. State Oysters No Hit Either

BALTIMORE (AP)—A couple of weeks ago, a fifth grade class visited an oyster bar at Lexington Market to see what an oyster looked—and tasted—like.

Reactions of the youngsters were varied. Some liked them. Some turned away, holding churning stomachs. One young fellow had to whiff smelling salts after someone told him the oyster he ate was still alive.

The account of the venture was carried by newspapers in many parts of the country. And it provoked varied responses.

The Seattle (Wash.) Post-Intelligencer suggested editorially that since some students didn't like Maryland oysters, they should get Washington's "peanutsized" oysters.

A West Coast company (Olympian Oyster Co., Shelton, Wash.) took the hint and shipped the class teacher, Mrs. Iris Gray, and her 32 students eight jars of small Washington state oysters packed in ice.

The children tried them. The reaction was about the same.

"Too cold and too sour."
"Taste like pickles."
"I'm glad they're small."
One pupil, looking at the small size, asked: "Why don't they let them grow up?"

B&O Authorized To Cut Off Two Commuter Trains

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad received clearance Thursday to cut off two Saturday commuter trains between Washington and Brunswick. The Public Service Commission said the B&O must give its riders at least 10 days notice and cannot discontinue the two trains, Nos. 39 and 40, before Nov. 1.

This could mean that the trains will make their last runs on Oct. 25.

The railroad, at a public hearing Sept. 17, told the commission the two trains — one each way — were losing about $60,000 a year on a six-day operation. And because of the extra light traffic on Saturdays, the B&O official said, the loss ratio was much higher on those days.

Train 40 leaves Brunswick at 6:40 a.m. and arrives at Washington at 8:10 a.m. No. 39 leaves Washington at 4:40 p.m. and arrives at Brunswick at 6:10 p.m. All times are daylight.

Opposing the railroad's request at the three-hour hearing were two individuals and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Pleads Guilty To Kidnaping

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — A 20-year-old Washington, D.C. man Thursday pleaded guilty to two counts of kidnaping in superior court.

He is James Leroy Smith, who kidnaped a taxi-driver in Washington Sept. 3, then drove to Connecticut where he took a 14-year-old school boy as a hostage in Greenwich and led police a wild chase on the Merritt Parkway before he was captured.

Judge Louis Shapiro said Smith will be sentenced Nov. 12.

The maximum sentence for kidnaping in Connecticut is 50 years if the victim is unharmed.

Smith told police at the time of his arrest he was on his way to Stamford to kill his estranged wife. He was armed with a .22 caliber rifle.

The Washington cab driver was Charles T. Smith, 40, who is not related to the prisoner.

Baltimore Soldier Again Goes AWOL

FT. MEADE (AP) — A Baltimore soldier serving a sentence for being absent without leave took off again Thursday.

But the Army can't ask Baltimore police to arrest him if they see him within the next month.

The Army public information office said Pvt. David P. Waedell is violating only military regulations by being absent without leave. After 29 days, he becomes a deserter and that's a federal offense for which he can be arrested.

Waedell began serving a six-month sentence in the stockade Sept. 29 for being absent. He was paroled from the stockade and made a trusty. He left the unguarded detention barracks Thursday morning.

Student, 10, Admits Setting School Fire

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 10-year-old student at St. Francis Xavier Catholic school Thursday was turned over to juvenile authorities after he admitted setting fire to the building a week ago.

The fourth floor of the school was destroyed by the flames Oct. 2. Four hundred pupils were evacuated, including 150 from first and second grade classrooms on the third floor.

Second Army Celebrates 40th Anniversary Today

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The 2nd Army, born during the bitter trench warfare of World War I, celebrates its 40th anniversary Friday.

Soldiers at this headquarters will march in parade at 11 a.m. It is open to the public.

The 2nd is one of six continental Army commands in the United States. It includes posts in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and the District of Columbia.

Its ranks include more than 90,000 men on active duty and other thousands of members of the Army reserve including the ROTC.

Lt. Gen. George W. Read Jr., commanding general, sent a message of congratulations to officers and enlisted men. He described the 2nd Army as a vital factor in the nation's security ever since its inception.

Army Chief of Staff Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor also sent a message of congratulations.

Two W. Va. Amendments Would Bring Basic Law In Line With Universal Usage

By J. RICHARD TOREN
United Press International
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Two of the four constitutional amendments to be voted on next month would merely bring West Virginia's basic law in line with universal practice, according to their sponsors.

One would exempt money and bank deposits from property taxes, which the sponsors say is practically never paid despite the law, except by those least able to pay. The other would allow West Virginia corporations to issue non-voting stock, which was permitted for some 50 years before the State Supreme Court outlawed it two years ago. Most corporations like to issue non-voting as well as voting stock, and approval of the amendment would remove a present obstacle to the formation of new businesses in the state.

The other two of the four amendments up for popular referendum - the so-called Good Bank Deposits Amendment and the State School Superintendent Amendment - have drawn public opposition. But the non-voting stock and bank deposits amendments passed the Legislature with a total of only three dissenting votes and have aroused no apparent protest.

One of the groups backing the bank deposits amendment is the Citizens Committee for Tax Reform, with headquarters at Charleston. Here's the story it tells in support of the proposal: Taxes on cash and bank deposits are seldom collected and even if they were, would be only a minor source of revenue. Most people never bother to list cash on their property tax returns or list their bank balance as of the January 1 assessment date. Many individuals and corporations with large bank balances withdraw them before Jan. 1 and redeposit them later thus escaping the tax.

But the law provides that after a person dies, the state tax commissioner may examine his taxes - including pre-Jan. 1 withdrawals - and usually do so. Each of the five preceding years. The sponsors also say that some B.C. means, since individuals and businesses with plenty of money know how to protect it from property taxes, and that the present provision make law violators and tax evaders out of practically all West Virginians.

"Loaded" dice are first mentioned in a Hindu epic about 500 B.C.

3 important silhouettes!

A. It's a complete change of pace! The Anglo Tour-lana mohair loop is exciting by its very nature and fashion's most eye-catching favorite! Zelinka-Matlick tailors it to a remarkably figure-flattering elegance, in a clutch coat with slim, handsome lines in front, a dramatic "waterfall" effect for the new drape in back.

B. Luscious beaver in color to match the fabric! Zelinka-Matlick uses it in lavish profusion, to create the most outrageously flattering coat we've ever seen, you've ever owned! Slightly oval in shape, every line of it softly rounded, sumptuous! The fabric is a rich, frothy-looking soufflé mohair that Anglo aptly calls "Fluff," and that blends with the beaver as if they were born for each other!

C. A slim taper of a dress coat in Anglo's Domingo, a soft, handsome sheen wool with a subtle brushed pattern effect. Accenting the look is the deep shawl collar, and the inverted-pleat sleeves that push up to a soft new fullness. The panel-back is achieved with Zelinka-Matlick's sure hand for figure-flattery . . . every detail perfection itself, right down to the two tiny bows where the panel disappears into the coat!

Secrets Of Charm

Legwork Must Be Lively To Hold That Trim Line

A letter in the morning mail is full of distress, and just as full of determination. I'd like to share it and my answer with you because they're on the important subject of beautiful legs and keeping them that way. Mrs. G. S. says in her letter:

"Next summer, I'm not going to be caught again in the position of being embarrassed about my legs, not if I can help it. I was really shocked at how I looked the first time I put on shorts this year, and avoided the swimming pool too much all season. I used to be so proud of my legs, but I have to face it — they're flabby and look as if they belong to someone twice my age. I'll work at them all winter if you give me some exercises to put my legs back in shape again."

Things can't be as bad as all that. If they once were legs to be proud of, they can't have aged or lost their shape entirely, so fast.

But I'm all for anyone who will start earnestly in the fall to be ready for next summer, and I do know exercises that are sure-fire leg improvers. Here they are:

1. Stand with one hand on a chair back. Snap your right leg up in front of you with the knee bent double. Kick forward sharply, then backward. Make it brisk, kick hard. Repeat to total five times for the right leg and five for the left. Now, for the next five kicks with each leg, increase speed. Slow the movement for the next double five, then speed again. Swing into a bracing rhythm.

2. Lie on your back on the floor, and do the riding-a-bicycle stand-by. Boost your hips high into the air and support them with your hands. Pedal as if you were pulling hard up a mountain, slowly, steadily and with all your might, twenty revolutions for each leg.

TOMORROW: Now To Get Your Time's Worth.

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WEIGH? A new, lightning calculator that tells you how to compute your own individual ideal weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10¢ (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?"

Youths Jailed In Railway Case

Five Mt. Savage area youths were given hearings in Juvenile Court yesterday in connection with causing considerable property damage to property of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson said the youths, ranging in age from 13 to 18, were charged in connection with the theft of gasoline, oil and tools from the railroad and also for causing approximately $130 damage to a piece of machinery owned by the company.

The magistrate ordered the 18-year-old youth committed to the Allegany County Jail for two weeks, and sentenced a 17-year-old youth to the Maryland Training School for Boys.

The older youth was also ordered to make restitution to the railroad company by March 1, 1959.

Magistrate Anderson noted that the boy sentenced to the training school has two previous convictions in Juvenile Court, and had a bad school record.

Two of the boys were placed on probation for six months and the fifth was paroled for nine months.

Testimony in the case revealed that the youths attempted to operate a $35,000 machine which the railroad had parked in the area. In doing so, police said, considerable damage was caused to the machinery.

Police said the youths also ransacked an explosive shed in the area, and used bars to force open the tool boxes located along the railroad line.

Two Men Given Terms In Theft Of Snack Bar

Serving notice that "criminals from other cities will not be tolerated in this county," Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday in Circuit Court imposed stiff sentences on two Baltimore men and suspended sentence on their two girl companions in the breaking and entering of a roadside snack bar last month.

Judge Harris said that almost every day the Baltimore papers carry stories of crimes of violence and that these persons cannot come into this county and engage in criminal activities.

Charles Howard Brown, 21, was given a sentence not to exceed five years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males. His companion, Harry William Martin, 24, was given the same sentence.

The two girls, Florence Elts Edwards, 18, of Ferndale, Md., and Carole Virginia Heavener, 18, of Baltimore, were given five-year suspended sentences with strict parole terms attached. Judge Harris in sentencing the two girls commented that there was a moral aspect as well as a criminal one in their participation.

The two couples were arrested in Hebron, Ohio a few days after breaking into the Mason Snack Bar on Baltimore Pike at Nave's Crossroad sometime between 3 and 6 a. m. on September 16. They returned here voluntarily.

Besides 29 silver dollars and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes, the accused took a small safe from the snack bar. It was later taken to National, along Georges Creek, and broken open. A total of $188.33 was in the safe.

Hugh A. McMullen, local attorney, was appointed by the court to defend the accused. He asked the court to be lenient in the case against the two girls. McMullen said they were young and had never been in any trouble previously. One of the girls, Carole Heavener, had been a teacher in a Baltimore Sunday school for three years, he told the court.

As far as the two men are concerned, McMullen said they have come from broken homes and have never had any supervision. Both men have long police records going back to the time they were in grade school. The judge commented that their long records of law violations did not allow for any consideration of leniency.

Fins

BY A. FISH

"I have been delegated by the Finny Association of America (a non-profit organization) to tell the plain facts to the people of this area.

"It has come to our attention that there is a school of thought in Detroit (Michigan) which believes that the fin was invented by Chrysler Corporation.

"Nothing could be further from the truth.

"We fish were first with fins!

"And, I might add, we had them many, many years before The Forward Look was even a gleam in an automotive designer's eye.

"Oh I grant you the folks at Chrysler Corporation were first to adapt our fins to passenger cars. (In addition to being functional, as we fish know, they do add quite a flair.) To be perfectly honest, we didn't mind a bit. Imitation, you know, is the sincerest form of flattery.

"But now we understand other car manufacturers are getting into the swim in full fin. And we just know this is going to wind up in one of those ridiculous squabbles about who was first.

"So we wanted you to have the facts. Fish were first with fins. Chrysler Corporation was merely first to make them an automotive fashion."

PPG Defends Distribution Policy Against Complaint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. defended itself Thursday against complaints by some glass dealers that its selling practices are unfairly hurting their business.

"The independent glass dealers are among my company's principal customers," said Felix T. Hughes, vice president in charge of Pittsburgh Plate's Merchandising Division.

"We know, and they know, that we have no desire to destroy them or see them destroyed. . . so far as I know, no customer of ours has ever gone out of business because of our competition."

Hughes testified before the Senate Small Business Subcommittee on Monopolies, which has heard some independent dealers testify they were being forced out of business by price cutting on the part of big glass firms, particularly Pittsburgh Plate.

Spokesmen for the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission said their agencies are looking into these dealer complaints.

Russell Rice of Clarksburg, W. Va., president of the Fourco Glass Co., testified that Pittsburgh Plate's establishment of its own merchandising outlets had led to intensified competition.

"However, to the present time," Rice said, "that merchandising method has posed no insuperable competitive problem to Fourco Glass Co."

"Increased sales effort by Fourco has enabled it to compete against such company owned merchandising outlets."

Local Men Delegates At Lutheran Session

Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church and Albert Hook, member of the church, are attending the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America which opened Wednesday in Dayton, Ohio, and will close next Wednesday.

Rev. Fink and Mr. Hook were elected delegates of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland during the Synod convention here last May. They are among 22 pastors and laymen representing 73,000 confirmed Maryland Lutherans at Dayton.

Two major items of concern in the convention are the recruitment of men for the ministry, and plans for the proposed merger of the United Lutheran Church in America with the Augustana Lutheran Church, American Evangelical Lutheran Church and the Suomi Synod Lutheran Church.

Commissioner Long Offers Program Of Most Urgent Street, Sewer Work

The most urgent street and sewer work facing Cumberland would be covered in the first year of the four-year program advocated by John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property.

Long has presented his four-year plan to the Mayor and Council, and has urged the body to support it.

A $500,000 bond issue would be part of the financing. Other revenues would come in the form of liens, state funds, reduced maintenance costs, and elimination of the street oiling program.

Curbing and guttering the unsaved streets would be the first step in their improvement, he observed. These uncurbed streets present many water and drainage problems.

Second would come the surfacing, with contracts being let in for a number of jobs at one time so that the overall cost would be lower, he said.

The semi-permanent, asphalt and chips being used on some streets will not hold up, he declared. Permanent surfacing should be used, Long advocated, as it is good business in the long run.

By districts, curbing and guttering projects for the 1958-59 year are:

North End — Holland Street Extended, Bond Street (Valley to Knox), Catskill Avenue, Ashbrook Avenue and Hay street.

South End — First Street, Second Street, Memorial Avenue, Somerville Avenue, Wempe Drive, Queen Street, Boen Street, King Street, West Offutt Street, West Elder Street, West Mary Street, Lexington Avenue, New Hampshire Avenue and Utah Avenue.

West Side — Cleveland Avenue, Niagara Street, Wills Creek Avenue, Karns Avenue, LeFevre Street, MacDonald Terrace, Camden Avenue Extended, and Kelly-Springfield Boulevard.

Capital improvements for 1958-59 would be as follows:

Widening Knox Street from North Centre to George Street, Centre Street to the B&O Railroad. The 215-foot stretch, would be concrete and would cost an estimated $6,415.

Extending George Street from Frederick Street to Bedford Street, a distance of 150 feet with concrete surface and costing an estimated $50,000.

Widening Franklin Street for a distance of 156 feet, concrete with a sidewalk, for an estimated $27,000.

Surfacing Frederick Street from North Centre to George Street, Bituminous concrete, at an estimated cost of $18,000.

Capital improvements for sewers during the year would be as follows:

Section A of the Winifred Road sewer, 3,745 feet of eight and 12-inch pipe, at a cost of $25,648.

Sewer for new National Guard Armory, eight-inch pipe, for an estimated $5,100.

Sewer for the new housing project on West Oldtown Road, $7,000.

At Long Last, The Suspense Is Over

At last, America's annual epidemic of World Series fever is all over, for another year at least. The merits of the Series will continue to be discussed for some little time by the sports writers and other articulate followers of the national sport, but for both teams and for their fans, the 1958 Series is all over, and the Yankees have won it, four games to three.

Doubtless there will be numerous post-mortem analyses which will tend to show that the Milwaukee Braves really should have won, if their fielding had only been a little better, and if Mr. Herman hadn't sent Mr. Pakko home in the second inning of the sixth game Wednesday. Doubtless, too, there will be brilliant arguments tending to refute such claims and to point out that the runs batted in by Mr. Howard and Mr. Skowron of the Yankees in yesterday's final game would, at all events, have precluded a Milwaukee victory, once the Series had gone into its seventh game. It is almost equally certain that there will be interminable statistics (Mr. Matthews set a new World Series strike-out record; Mr. Berra, on the other hand, set a new record for hits in lifetime Series play; and so on).

But all the arguments and all the statistics will not change the fact that the 1958 Series is, as they say, history. Whether it was a well-played Series is now beside the point. No one will deny that it was a fascinating and exciting Series. Its heroes already have been crowned, the money soon will be divided, and eventually the Series will cease to be practically the only proper topic of conversation in most circles. With this in mind, we can be thankful that, win or lose, at last the suspense is over, at last the "world championship" has been decided for 1958, and at last we can all forget about baseball for awhile and, perhaps, get some work done.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

No Guide To The Perplexed

Perhaps the reason that Bernard Baruch, in his 89th year, is so much wiser than most men is not that he is more experienced but that he has read more history and that his education was classical. He still sometimes reads Latin and Greek for his amusement and edification.

The man who assumes that history began when he was born will, of course, never learn that there has been a long chain of events which composed his environment, both natural and historical. Without a profound knowledge of history, it is hardly possible to grasp what is going on at this moment, certainly not what is occurring in so many different parts of the world.

Every day, one hears opinions about war and peace and what should be a good line of defense for the United States, although history teaches that there is no good line of defense and that a nation makes its stand when it has a possibility of winning and does not wait until all the advantages have accrued to its enemies. This we did in 1945 when we permitted Soviet Russia to win our war with Nazi Germany and again in 1948 when we permitted Soviet Russia to gather all the advantages of our war with Japan in which the Russians did not participate at all in any realistic way.

Our current difficulties stem from these two errors of judgment, one of which was the result of an Administration seeking to please the voters, particularly the mammas who wanted their sons home as soon as possible, and the other was due to extraordinary bad judgment and an utter disregard of historical facts. A decade later, the errors stand out clearly.

Now we are capable of making another error with regard to where to resist the Soviet Universal State because politicians are more concerned with the cowardice of high standard of living people who refuse to recognize the essential historic fact that it is useful for low standard of living peoples to seek to grasp the benefits from high standard of living peoples if they can. And it is not unusual for high standard of living peoples to become soft and unpatriotic and self-centered and to seek to preserve their private fortunes at any cost. Usually, they lose their private fortunes by war or revolution.

In this Congressional campaign, which is so crucial historically, there are practically no arguments, debates or discussions. This is a rare moment in our history. The nation is suffering because of an inflation which is producing a debased currency. A flight of capital is occurring which started as a form of income tax evasion and has developed into an investment in industries abroad which compete with ours to our detriment. Congressional investigations have disclosed that many labor unions which are in control of vital national industries and services have fallen into the hands of corrupt and abusive men who have used them for national harm.

These are but a few questions that should be but are not discussed in this canvass to elect a new Congress. The career of Jimmy Hoffa may have disgusted some, but it has not stirred the nation to indignation. It is true that William Knowland in California and Barry Goldwater in Arizona have raised some of these issues but most of the candidates are talking about nothing, just uttering sound, and what is more startling is that neither the people nor the press seem to care much that this election, at a time of an historical crisis that can lead to war, is a mumbling and fumbling affair about nothing that makes any sense. Are we stupid or have we lost our sense of country?

It is a question that sooner or later will need to be answered in the blood of our sons. For if we have lost our sense of country, our feel for the country, then the enemy will take full advantage of our weakness, as enemies always do of weak nations. If it is more important to protect a private fortune than it is national dignity, then we may find ourselves without dignity and without fortunes.

And this election campaign, thus far, would indicate that the reason candidates avoid taking stands on issues is because the people do not take a stand. The candidates reflect the times which is an era of laissez faire, of anything goes.

'Welcome, Sam'

The 'Liberals' Against Right-To-Work Laws

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some day the historians may describe the 1950s as "The Age of Hypocrisy." At a time when the so-called "liberals" have been shouting loudly that "all men are equal" and that the liberty of an individual and his "freedom of choice" must not be restrained or restricted, the worker is being compelled in millions of cases to accept a system of private slavery, conducted by labor-union masters, as the price of a job in free America.

The denunciation of the "right to work" laws that have been adopted by many states is an example of how the principle of freedom to work, as guaranteed by the Constitution itself, is being flagrantly disregarded.

Not a single one of the so-called "liberals" of prominence has ventured to make a militant fight for the "right to work" laws which are an issue in the elections this year in several states, particularly California. Yet the Supreme Court of the United States, in its historic 1954 decision against the continuance of racial segregation in the public schools of the District of Columbia, said:

"Although the court has not assumed to define 'liberty' with any great precision, that term is not confined to mere freedom from bodily restraint. Liberty under law extends to the full range of conduct which the individual is free to pursue, and it cannot be restricted except for a proper governmental objective."

This definition of "liberty" would appear to invalidate the provision of the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947 which — unless state laws forbid it — permits employers and unions to agree on a private contract that compels a worker to join a union within 30 days after he is hired or lose his job. State laws barring compulsory unionization were upheld in 1949 by the Supreme Court, but there has been no decision against the federal statute which legalizes involuntary membership in labor unions in most of the states of the Union today.

The Department of Justice has no unit or division that devotes itself wholly to the "civil rights" of the workers of the United States, and hence there has been no effort to get the federal courts to issue injunctions against employers and unions who conspire together under a plainly unconstitutional federal law to compel citizens to give up their conscientious beliefs and join an organization they don't want to join.

The unwilling "member" is also deprived of his property in violation of the "due process" Amendment of the Constitution, because he is forced against his will to pay dues to an organization he does not care to join.

The "right to work" doctrine is founded on the words of the Declaration of Independence and is imbedded in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution, but the politicians on the so-called "liberal" side are apparently afraid of the labor-union bosses, some of whom have been using money obtained from the workers to buy the services of hundreds of thousands of precinct agents to drag workers and their wives to the polls to vote for candidates being supported by the labor-union bosses.

Who is making the fight against this kind of liberalism? Certainly not the spurious "liberals" who are trying to defeat a true liberal like Senator Knowland of California when he stands up for the right of every man, irrespective of color or creed, to get and keep a job without paying tribute to a union.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

A statesman is a politician who can resign like he's accepting the nomination.

We listened to the swan solo of Sherman Adams and it sounded like he was buttering the Taj Mahal with moonlight.

Next night the Democrats grabbed equal time on the herring-boned rostrum. They also pleaded not guilty with extenuating circumstances.

The Democrats didn't want Adams to scram. They would rather have him stay put and lose a couple more states.

We remember another administration where an executive said, "I will not turn my back on John Doe."

After that they called him Revolting Jones. He didn't turn his back but he sure wore out his swivel chair.

Well, the incident is over, the file closed and the portfolio moth-balled.

It's just one of those things you don't order by catalogue number.

Republicans Face A New Conflict Of Interest Case In Pa. Election

By Drew Pearson

PHILADELPHIA — Republicans are unhappy over a new conflict-of-interest case of the type that has plagued the Eisenhower Administration. This one is highly embarrassing because it involves a Republican congressman now running for the Senate—dapper, delightful Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Coming on top of the Sherman Adams-Goldfine conflict of interest which forced Adams out of the White House, and on top of six other conflict-of-interest officials who have been forced to resign, the Hugh Scott revelation brings no smiles around the Republican National Committee.

For it's now discovered that Congressman Scott, who used to be Chairman of the Republican National Committee, received $2,000 for getting a pardon in 1954 for Nicholas Marcello, convicted of robbery of a liquor warehouse and then deported to Italy. Shortly thereafter, Scott introduced a private bill in Congress to permit Marcello to return to the United States. The bill passed Congress.

It is a criminal offense for a member of Congress to take a fee, directly or indirectly through his law firm, for introducing legislation of any kind.

Ironic Twist

Congressman Scott's conflict of interest came to light through an ironic twist of political fate. Pennsylvania Republicans had been charging that Governor George Leader's pardons board had been granting a large number of pardons. Gov. Leader, Democrat, running against Scott for the Senate, replied that there had been fewer pardons under him than under Republican Governor Jim Duff and only half as many as under Republican Governor John Fine. Then he revealed that Congressman Scott himself had appeared before the pardon's board in 1954 when Fine was Governor and received a $2,000 fee for a fifteen-minute plea for Marcello, the south Philadelphia deportee, then living in Italy.

Congressman Scott was fully aware that as a congressman it was questionable for him to introduce a private bill for a man from whom he took a legal fee. For he told the Pennsylvania pardons board that Marcello would apply for admission to the United States but that "such procedure would have to be handled by someone other than me."

The fee charged was ten times the normal fee for an appearance in such a case before the state pardons board," Gov. Leader asserted. "Certainly everybody knew that the pardon would be worthless without the subsequent private bill."

Republicans are now moaning privately that they never should have raised the question of pardons.

Embarrassing Moment

In Washington, the Scott issue comes at an embarrassing moment, not only because of the Goldfine case, but because the Justice Department, while not moving against either Goldfine or Adams, has called a special grand jury for action on Baron Shacklette, chief investigator for the Harris committee and the man who dug up the evidence against the death of Henry Grunewald, Democrat, who was hounded to death by the Justice Department after the U. S. Supreme Court upheld him and a Federal jury had failed to convict.

All this has put the Justice Department in the position of prosecuting Democrats relentlessly, while ignoring malfeasance by Republicans.

Congressman Scott's explanation in the Marcello private bill case is that his law firm got the money. Some previous precedents in Washington show that this is not valid. When Congressman Vincent Quinn, Democrat of Staten Island, N. Y., represented clients, through his law firm, in a criminal case before the Justice Department, he was indicted by a Democratic-controlled Justice Department under Truman.

Again, Congressman John Wood of Georgia, Democrat, introduced a bill to compensate Ralph Stanfield of Tate, Ga., for an injury by an army truck. For this, Wood's law partner received a fee of $1,000.

The reaction of Georgia voters was such that Wood did not run for re-election. Later President Eisenhower appointed the ex-Congressman, a Democrat with Republican leanings, to the Subversive Control Board, but was forced to withdraw his name when the Senate Judiciary Committee called attention to Wood's conflict of interest in collecting a fee through his law firm for the introduction of a private bill.

These are some of the precedents facing dapper, delightful Congressman Scott, who introduced a private bill for an ex-convict who had paid him and/or his law firm $2,000.

Pieces of Greek Silver
Handsome Premier Karamanlis of Greece was giving a state dinner for Premier Harold Macmillan of Britain. Their two countries have almost been at daggers' points since the dispute over Cyprus, and Macmillan had come to Athens to try to improve relations. Karamanlis was equally anxious that the state dinner contribute to better friendship.

In honor of the British Prime Minister, Madame Karamanlis decided to use for the first time the beautiful silver set given the Greek government by Colonel Nasser, President of Egypt. During the dinner everyone admired the silverware. It was a great hit.

But unfortunately, one Englishman read Arabic. Picking up a silver plate he read aloud the Arabic inscription:

"Down with British Colonialism."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Her brows are like dark cravens. She is short and young and almost too attractive. A few years ago, she married a man with a whisper of gray, a sunburst of laugh wrinkles, and a big factory. He is devoted to Evelyn. She wears him like a charm bracelet.

A week ago, she called the cook into the boudoir. Evelyn was filing her pointed fingernails. "I won't need you after the first," she said. The cook stiffened.

"Did I do something wrong?" she said.

"Your work is all right," Evelyn said, filing steadily. "I heard yesterday that you are living with a man downtown. I'm sorry."

The cook's shoulders sagged. "Excuse me," she said. "I've been living with him since a year after my husband died."

Evelyn shrugged. "So much the worse," she said. "If I had known it sooner, I'd have fired you sooner. I'm not having any of that stuff around me."

She was a proper lady, this Evelyn.

There was another Evelyn years ago. She was before my time, but I have heard the story so many times that I can see her. She lived on Varick Street, on the west side of New York. She had no morals. Her brows were like dark cravens and men saw slumber in her eyes. Her carefree hours were spent in the taverns.

Somewhere around the place there was always a stranger who would buy a drink for her. She lived for laughter. She knew so many men that when one said hello, she had to snap her fingers to try to remember his name.

She met Frank, a blond truck driver. To him, it was more than laughter and liquor. He fell in love. He begged Evelyn to reform. For a while, she thought that there was hope. They took a little flat up on Columbus Avenue. He wanted to marry Evelyn; she wanted to wait and see. They lived together. Frank's mother was a proper lady. She was horrified and she called Evelyn names in public. Bad names.

The birth of little Evelyn did not improve matters. They became worse. She left Frank. The baby went with her. Frank's love was transmuted to hate. He and his mother spent considerable time plotting. They worked all of the angles — including the political.

They had Evelyn arrested for public lewdness. A politician acquired the services of a doctor who testified that Evelyn was diseased and insane. She was placed in a public institution and forgotten. Little Evelyn was raised by her grandma.

No one told the child anything. When she reached adolescence, her "mother" was extra strict. She stressed morality and religion and religion and morality until the child became afraid of men.

The real Evelyn wrote pathetic letters to her mother-in-law. She begged for forgiveness for any wrong she had done. She begged to be set free. The old lady never answered the letters. She went to church and prayed for the fallen woman. The years moved slowly and inexorably. Evelyn grew old and gray. She became a sort of trustee in the state isolation hospital.

Her hair was white. So was her uniform. She didn't laugh any more. She never drank. Once, she spotted an uncle of mine visiting someone else and she begged for news of her baby. He said: "She's fine. She's a young lady now." That was all.

Evelyn wrote to Frank and pleaded for a photo. She had nothing else in life and she just wanted to see what her own flash and blood looked like. No answer. Three times she appealed for a rehearing of her case. Evelyn was turned down.

Three years ago, Frank died with his secret. This spring, close to the second anniversary of young Ev's marriage, her real mother died. There was no next of kin and she was buried in Potter's Field.

It isn't much of a story. The young lady still thinks that her grandmother is her mother. No one is going to change her thinking. I see her now and then. When she told me about firing the cook, I started to think of the long ago.

She's a proper lady, this Evelyn. Very proper. . .

Preventing Respiratory Ailments In Asthmatics

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The sulfonamides are used to prevent infectious asthma. They are given prophylactically in small daily doses from September to June when colds are prevalent. Asthmatics dread respiratory infections because they are likely to be followed by attacks of wheezing.

In a group of asthmatics at the Albert Einstein Medical center, 19 have relied upon this plan for three or more years. One has followed this ritual for seven years and another for six years. When prophylaxis fails, and sore throat or bronchitis develops, these men and women are given antibiotics immediately. The infection was aborted in many instances and no asthmatic attack ensued.

The daily use of the sulfonamides is an established procedure in the prevention of rheumatic fever. This kills streptococci in the throat before they have a chance to produce the forerunners of rheumatic fever—tonsillitis or strep throat.

Some persons develop more colds than others. Preventive vaccine are of no value except against influenza. Some physicians (not all) advise these individuals to take a tablet or lozenge containing an antibiotic or a sulfonamide the moment they feel a cold coming on. It is surprising how often the respiratory infection fails to materialize.

An English physician tried this plan on 919 volunteers from October, 1956, to April, 1957. They were divided into two groups: 581 were given a tablet containing an antibiotic and the remainder received identical tablets containing inert substances. The results were overwhelmingly in favor of the antibiotic.

During this period, 287 of the treated groups showed signs of a cold but only 22 (7 per cent) went on to develop a sore throat and sniffles. On the other hand, 182 of the control group exhibited symptoms of an impending cold and 87 (48 per cent) developed the real McCoy. Sucking on the lozenges made a marked difference — four colds as against 26 controls per 100 volunteers. None became sensitive to the wonder drug.

Yes, provided the defect has not existed since birth.

INFLAMED SAC

T. W. writes: What is done for pericarditis?

REPLY

In this condition, the sac surrounding the heart is inflamed. The individual is put to bed and made comfortable. The physician usually tries to determine the cause. Inflammation due to rheumatic fever, for example, is treated with the salicylates or adrenal steroids. The antibiotics are used when the pneumococci or staphylococci organisms are responsible. Isoniazid is given when tuberculosis is the culprit. It may be necessary to anesthetize the chest wall and insert a

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Good servants, notes Patrick Mahony, are virtually non-existent in Ireland today. They all come to America, where wages are much higher. Thus, a rich Irish squire of County Clare was particularly disconsolate when his cook died. He ordered a fine headstone for her, with these words chiseled thereon:

"Peace Be To Her Hashes" Mahony tells of another stone in the same graveyard that decorates the resting place of a one-time dentist:

"Stranger heed this spot with due gravity
For here Doctor Mac Lavery
Filled his last cavity."

County Fund Chairman Urges More Support During Drive

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, County United Fund campaign chairman, yesterday urged all united givers to follow the example of industry and industrial employees, who, he said, "not only provide the payrolls to keep our communities thriving, but have taken the lead in supporting 31 youth, health, welfare and community agencies in the CUF area."

Management gifts have ranged up to as much as $7,000, Biggs pointed out, while employees groups in the "Big Seven" industries have already added nearly $85,000 to the 1958 fund drive. He also lauded contributors to the Golden Gifts division of CUF, noting that individual contributions ranged as high as $5,000. "Every volunteer worker for County United Fund has already made a substantial contribution to this year's campaign," the chairman stated, "and that is his number one qualification. He doesn't ask others to do something that he hasn't done himself."

Pittsburgh Plate Glass employees are so far ahead in the field of giving, he said, that it's doubtful that any other group will catch up to them. "Baltimore and Ohio, Western Maryland Railway, and Celanese employees, while hardest hit by the recession, have displayed a remarkable faith in the future with their big gifts," the captain added.

He characterized Kelly-Springfield employees as the "old stand-bys" of united giving, who can always be depended upon to do their part; West Virginia Pulp and Paper employees as the "lively newcomers to area giving, who have taken on their community responsibilities with real vigor"; and Allegheny Ballistics employees as being "as truly progressive as the products they develop — always striving to surpass their own accomplishments."

The business, classified and county campaigns of County United Fund are now in full swing, Biggs concluded, and urged workers and givers to get together as soon as possible so that the campaign books may be closed successfully for another year.

Captain Biggs, chairman of the second annual Mighty United campaign of County United Fund, yesterday announced that the following firms have achieved or exceeded their goals in the current fund drive:

Community Baking Company, Ort Brothers Bakery, Inc., Farmer's Dairy, Liberty Milk Company, Fort Cumberland Hotel, Crystal Laundry, Memorial Hospital, Sacred Heart Hospital, Ben Franklin Stores, J. I. Mattingly Bros., Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory, Celanese Corporation of America, Works 7 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, South Cumberland Planing Mill, Schmidt Baking Company, B. A. Mason Dairy, Barton's Dairy, First Federal Savings and Loan, Bachman Transfer & Storage, Inc., Burton's Mens' Shop, Mil-lenson Furniture Company, R. H. Lapp and Sons, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Store, Curtis Confectionery, Singer Sewing Machine and Tri-State Paper Company.

Captain Biggs also pointed out that much of the success of CUF in the Classified Division is due to the work of the following captains:

E. J. McMannis, Kenton B. Farrell, Lt. R. McConnell, Melvin Specht, Reynold Wallach, Harry B. Rambo, LeRoy Durst, B. U. Smith, H. Lee Silcox, Robert Essler, James W. Bishop, T. W. Morris, Robert C. Petersen, Ronald J. Screen, Reatus Spiker and Homer Higgins.

The constitution of the Irish Free State was adopted Dec. 11, 1922. A new constitution July, 1937, superseded the Irish Free State with the Republic of Ireland (Eire), an independent, democratic nation.

Rare American Chestnut Tree Survives Near Eckhart

Raymond Blank, Eckhart, is shown with a number of empty burrs from an American chestnut tree located on his property at the top of Washington Hollow. Blank, a retired insurance agent, says that he sprayed the tree for a number of years hoping to keep the blight which has killed all of the trees in this locality from killing his. He has had success so far in that 30 to 50 burrs containing chestnuts were borne this year. A blight, some years ago, destroyed thousands of chestnut trees and only a few survived. Foresters say there are only a half dozen known standing in Western Maryland.

4-H Boys Hear Talk On GOC, Civil Defense

Members of the Union Grove and the Baltimore Pike 4-H Clubs, at a joint meeting at Union Grove Wednesday night, viewed a film, heard a talk and discussed the Civil Defense program.

T Sgt. Joseph P. Hodge, field training representative for the Ground Observer Corps outlined for the boys some of the duties and training phases of Civil Defense volunteers. He explained that under the direction of William Barger, Allegany County has one of the best Civil Defense organizations in the entire area.

Sgt. Hodge also showed a CD film based upon local activities and organization, showing local volunteers and the part they are playing in Civil Defense and allied programs in this county. The film was taken and made here and is entirely a local story.

Sgt. Hodge also outlined the work of the GOC, explained how planes are spotted, charted and reported and told the boys that several hundred men and women are on a "standby" alert basis to go to GOC posts on immediate notice. Regular exercises are held so that the entire GOC organization remains intact and prepared in case of emergency.

He outlined for the 4-H boys the dangers of attack from the air, the need for trained civilian volunteers in many areas of activity and complimented them on their interest in CD and GOC.

Assistant County Agent James Arnold and 4-H Leader Willys L. Wilson also spoke briefly. They explained that the 4-H Clubs are studying Civil Defense as one of their winter activities.

Among the boys present were Tommy Rowe, Warren White, Floyd Twigg, James Garland, Francis Fagan, Charles Twigg, Homer Hardinger, David Garland, Tony Liller, James Heavner, David Windish.

Donald Ansel, Leroy Gable, Kenneth Mingle, Carl Garland, Steve Garland, Edgar Long, and Howard Reynolds.

Teachers Discuss Physical Fitness Of School Children

FROSTBURG — Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education in Allegany County, met with physical education teachers Tuesday at Beall Elementary School to discuss physical fitness in the public schools.

"Nine out of ten American school children only watch sports instead of taking part in them. As a result, their bodies are much less fit than they should be." This warning came from President Eisenhower's second annual youth fitness conference held at Fort Ritchie, Maryland. More than a hundred sports, business and civic leaders gathered at an army base there to discuss ways of improving the strength of American youth.

They suggested that the federal government should work with committees to provide better playtime programs plus equipment. They also recommended that parents provide more exercise for their children.

Mr. Pence, commenting on the muscular fitness of American school children, pointed out that 56 per cent of children between the ages of 6 and 19 failed to meet even a minimum standard required for general health and survival in case of emergency.

Mr. Pence further explained the Kraus-Weber physical fitness test and demonstrated simplicity of administering it with two seventh grade students.

The Kraus-Weber test will be given to all school children in Allegany County in grades one to six during the early part of this year. A follow-up exam will be given the latter part of the year to measure progress.

Paper Mill Superintendent Will Retire; Barton Two Other Company Men Promoted

LUKE—The retirement of John M. Clabaugh as paper mill superintendent, effective November 1, and the appointment of his successors in a new organizational arrangement have been announced by John A. Luke, manager of the Fine Papers Division of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Clabaugh, who has been with the company almost 50 years, has been superintendent of the seven-machine paper mill here since October 1, 1947.

Contemplating the installation of two new larger machines as a major part of the mill's current expansion program, the plant has been divided into upper and lower mills, each of which will be headed by a superintendent.

Heading the upper mill, which includes Numbers 6 and 7 paper machines as well as the two new machines, Numbers 8 and 9, will be Roy P. Webber, 2nd, present assistant superintendent of the paper mill at Luke.

In charge of the lower mill, which includes Machines Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 will be John L. Olewine, present assistant paper mill superintendent at the company's Covington, Va., mill.

Reside In Luke

Clabaugh joined the company at its Williamsburg, Pa., mill June 2, 1909, and was a tour foreman there when he was transferred to Luke in 1929 as assistant to the paper mill superintendent. On October 8, 1935, Clabaugh was named assistant superintendent of the paper mill and on October 1, 1947, he was promoted to the position of paper mill superintendent. Mr. and Mrs. Clabaugh reside on Cromwell Street in Luke.

Webber, who joined the company in October 1953, has been employed at the Luke mill since July 1, 1956, when he was assigned to the technical service department. He was transferred from technical service to the paper mill and promoted to the position of staff assistant to the paper mill superintendent in April of 1957. This past April he was promoted to assistant paper mill superintendent.

His first assignment with the company was as product development supervisor at the company's Charleston, S. C. mill, but in August 1954, he was transferred to the Research Department. On June 1, 1956, he was transferred to the research laboratory at the Covington, Va., mill and a month later was transferred to Luke.

JOHN L. OLEWINE

A native of Portland, Me., Webber was graduated from the University of Maine in August 1952 with bachelor of science and master of science degrees in chemical engineering. He was a member of the first group to complete the university's five-year pulp and papermaking course.

Promoted In 1955
Mr. and Mrs. Webber and their daughter live at 47 East Hampshire Street, Piedmont.

Olewine started to work at the Covington mill in 1948 in the technical service department, handling various engineering projects throughout the mill which included work at the carbon plant and board mill Number 2.

In 1950 he was appointed board mill engineer and in 1951 he was named paper mill engineer. The following year Olewine was appointed supervisor of Numbers 6 and 7 paper machines at Covington, the position he held until 1955 when he was promoted to assistant superintendent of the paper mill.

Olewine was graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1948 with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering. His brother, James, is assistant personnel manager at the Williamsburg mill, and another brother, Gilbert, is a company sales representative at the Cincinnati office.

Mr. and Mrs. Olewine and their three children will move here in the near future.

Moorefield Sewage Disposal Plan Outlined By Consulting Engineer

Unique, Economical Method Termed Feasible For Community

MOOREFIELD — W. S. Staub, consulting engineer with the firm of Kelley, Gidley and Staub of Charleston, told the Moorefield Lions Club that Moorefield had a priority on the proposed sewage disposal system and a grant from the federal government for $35,000 towards construction.

At the meeting Monday night at Hotel McNeill, Mayor P. W. Clarke reviewed the history of the proposed system over the past five years since the West Virginia State Water Commission ordered the Town of Moorefield to cease pouring raw sewage into the South Branch River.

Staub says under present plans Moorefield will not have to construct a treatment system but can utilize an eight acre pond in which bacteria and algae, coupled with oxygen and sunlight, will purify the sewage into water and return it to the stream. Staub explained the action of the process and said it had been used for hundreds of years in Europe and is now becoming common in the U.S. He explained that only towns with flat areas of land can use the system and for that reason Moorefield is fortunate as compared with most West Virginia towns.

The engineer stated that the waste in the pond will have no odor, will not grow mosquitoes and has no objectionable features. He also said that such a pond requires little or no maintenance other than keeping weeds from growing around the edges and that the pond, which will be located just west of Green Valley Hatchery would not be visible from the highway.

The plan calls for the lifting of sewage from South Moorefield, across the South Fork River, and into the present main sewer system. No more raw sewage will be put into the South Fork from South Moorefield. Another pump located west of the M. A. Bean Motor Company will force the sewage on down into the proposed pond. The pumps and lifts are worked with compressed air.

Staub called the proposed system a waste stabilization pond and said that no sediment is collected. He admitted that floods could take out the retaining dykes and this can be expected about every 12 to 20 years. He said the flooding is no problem and the impoundment can easily be rebuilt.

The proposed waste stabilization pond will effect considerable saving over a primary treatment system and will cost $137,000 to build. It is to be financed by revenue bonds payable over a 30-year period. Water rates to users will increase 100 per cent instead 113 per cent.

Staub stated that all towns will be required to build sewage treatment systems and that most of them will have to spend many times the cost of Moorefield's installation.

The Sanitary Board created in June of this year is composed of Mayor P. W. Clarke, Dan Wilson and Staub. Plans have to be approved by the U.S. Public Health Service, and the State Health Department and Staub said in his opinion the approval should come through quickly.

In the business session of the club Wendell Hester, the president, announced that the annual Halloween parade and festival will be held Friday, October 21 in cooperation with the Annual PTA Festival at the Graded School. Hester also announced a board meeting to be held at his home on Monday, October 13.

Roy Hamilton, chairman of the membership drive reported plans were completed. Glenn Evans, proprietor of Evans Amoco Service, was admitted as a new member.

Mrs. Edna Gamble made a donation to the glasses fund and President Hester said a broom sale a fruit cake sale and a July 4th celebration next year would help raise funds for the glasses fund and for the Christmas charity baskets. The Moorefield Lions Club furnished 18 pairs of glasses to needy children in the county during the past year and presently have requests for several more. The youngsters are screened through the county health nurse. Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds and through the school teacher. The club adopted a policy of accepting donations from the public for the glasses fund.

Create Mint Favors For Fall Bridal Showers

So you're giving a shower for a bride in a few weeks. It's not at all surprising, for latest reports show that ten percent of marriages take place in early fall.

Besides planning the menu, you may at this time be elbow-deep in table decorations.

A colorful and fun-filled way to bring a festive note to the table is by making individual favors for each guest. This is one occasion when all of the gala trimmings imaginable can be brought into play.

Among the most effective of table trimmers are miniature umbrellas. All you need to create them, besides after dinner mints, are bits of cellophane, sticky tape, ribbon and pipe cleaners. They're simple and inexpensive to make.

Candy Umbrellas

For each favor you need a 5-inch square of clear cellophane. Overlap opposite corners of cellophane square to form a cone, keeping bottom point sharp. Tape cone closed.

Fill cone with about 1/2 pack-leaving ends of ribbon free. Make a loop bow with a 12-inch ribbon. Tie into place with free ends of other piece of ribbon. Bend top of pipe cleaner into a curve to form umbrella handle.

Make it a dinner to remember by serving Tongue Supreme. This delightful variation is simply slices of cooked tongue topped with a sauce highlighting minced onion, dairy sour cream, vinegar and seasonings.

Perfect Pair: Veal Steaks, Buttermilk

When one thinks of buttermilk, it's just natural that buttermilk pancakes or biscuits come to mind. The southern custom of serving honey with these two products is an old one. Now something new has come to light... a new way of using buttermilk.

Use buttermilk in preparing veal shoulder steaks. Veal, as you probably know, has a mild flavor and readily takes to sauces and toppings for a variety of unusual dishes.

These steaks are best prepared by braising. The braising liquid is the buttermilk, of course. Another delightful additive is prepared mustard. A tablespoon of the mustard is equally spread over 4 veal steaks. Actually, you'll find this fresh innovation a new star in your collection of award winning recipes.

Buttermilk Veal Steaks

4 veal shoulder steaks, cut 3/4 inch thick
3 tablespoons lard
1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup buttermilk

Flour
Brown meat on both sides in lard or drippings. Season with paprika and salt. Spread with prepared mustard. Add buttermilk, cover tightly and cook slowly for 1 hour or until tender. Remove meat, thicken liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

Peanut Brittle-Orange Whip Topping

1/4 cup crushed peanut brittle
1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Fold crushed peanut brittle and grated orange rind into whipped cream. Chill at least one hour before using. Serve on pumpkin or apple pie.

Yield: 1 1/4 cups Peanut Brittle-Orange Whip Topping.

Meat Muffins

It's true... here's a recipe for tasty Ham Muffins. Simply combine 1 pound ground smoked ham, 1/2 pound ground lean pork, 2 cups cooked macaroni and cheese and 1 egg. Grease 12 small or 8 medium size muffin cups. Fill cups with meat mixture and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 45 minutes.

Stock Market Irregular With No Clearcut Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market had more gains than losses Thursday but averages of key stocks were unchanged.

An irregular market with cross-currents of profit taking and reinvestment left no clear trend. A late improvement among the most active issues made it look like a higher market until the over-all statistics were in.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced while three declined and one was unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $197.90 with the industrials down 30 cents, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities up 10 cents to a new 1958 high.

Consequently, there is room for argument on whether the market was higher, lower, or mixed.

Gains' outnumbered losses 545 to 406, of the 1,196 issues traded. There were 123 new highs for the year and 3 new lows.

Volume was 3,670,000 shares compared with 3,690,000 Wednesday.

Meat packers, distillers, steel, aircraft, electronics, rails and drugs showed gains. Chemicals, motors and most coppers remained lower, the latter despite higher copper prices abroad.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grain futures prices today closed mixed, with most prices easy on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1/4 to 1/2 cents; corn (old) off 1/4 to 1/2 cents; new off 1/4 to 1/2 cents; oats off 1/4 to 1/2 cents; soybeans off 1/4 to 1/2 cents.

Heavy export house demand kept near wheat contracts in firm levels, contrasting with weakness in distant options. Observers said the sale of 15,000 tons while wheat to Pakistan was the apparent reason for the increased hedge buying.

Commission houses and local brokers sold. Cash corn was strong, but futures receded from early firmness. The weather directed most trade, and with wet weather forecasts, there was an early demand.

Commission houses wanted new December. A sale of cash corn at 16 1/2 cents above the December price was reported.

Oats were featureless. Prices dropped into easy ranges. Rain over the harvest area generated an early demand for soybeans. Prices declined. Country offerings were light.

At outside markets, grains were rather easy. The range:

For After The Game - - A Touchdown Buffet

Since Autumn means both "football season" and "entertainment season," let your after-the-game meal capture the excitement in the crisp air. Whether your team wins or loses, the day will be happy if you end it with a warm, cheerful buffet dinner.

Why not carry out the spirit of that important game? For a comment-inspiring table decoration make a goalpost centerpiece and set it in an oval bowl with chrysanthemums.

You can make the goalpost yourself with spirally grooved candles, three lengths of ribbon and eight common pins. Wind the ribbon around each candle, securing it on pins at the ends of the candles (heat pins first to prevent cracking the wax). Pin in the crossbar and there you have it... a charming miniature symbol of the day, to be held in place by pieces of ordinary modeling clay.

For an additional football touch, serve the "touchdown" party punch in a brass water pail, with a pennant taped to the outside.

For an evening that really "scores," try this meal-in-itself Time-Out casserole:

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 package wide noodles
- 1 cup creamed corn
- 1 cup catsup
- 1 cup mushrooms
- 1/2 lb. sharp cheese
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 large onion
- 1 green pepper
- 1 large clove garlic salt to taste

Boil noodles in salted water until soft. Brown onion, pepper and garlic in a little bacon fat, add the ground meat and chili powder. Simmer a few minutes. Then mix with the boiled noodles, add the corn and tomato catsup. Fill a baking dish with the mixture adding cheese, sprinkled throughout and saving most for the top. Sprinkle a little chopped parsley on top of the cheese and bake in a slow oven about forty minutes. Will serve eight.

Get out your sparkling everyday crystal, your linen napkins and arrange in logical fashion, keeping all within easy reach.

Have plenty of good hot coffee for serving both before and after the meal. Make your guests comfortable by seating them near cocktail or end tables, where they can set their plates and glasses. These are some of the things that will help you make the entertainment touchdown of the season!

Smoked Sausage Kabobs

The minute you bring out the "makings" for these Smoked Sausage Kabobs, your family or guests will know immediately that this is going to be a treat excitingly different.

Smoked sausage links have become quite popular as a breakfast sausage, and as a new meat in spaghetti sauce.

In these particular kabobs, pitted ripe olives, tomato wedges and smoked sausage links cut into thirds are used. French dressing may be brushed over the prepared kabobs before they're broiled.

The kabobs should be placed from 2 to 3 inches from the heat and allowed to grill or broil 3 to 5 minutes on the first side and until browned on the second side.

Smoked Sausage Kabobs

8 smoked sausage links

2 small tomatoes, quartered

16 pitted ripe olives

French dressing

Cut smoked sausage links diagonally into thirds. On each of eight 6-inch skewers thread 3 sausage pieces, 1 tomato wedge and 2 olives. Place kabobs on broiler rack and brush with French dressing. Broil 3 inches from the heat until browned, 3 to 5 minutes. Turn and brush with French dressing and broil second side until browned, about 2 minutes. Yield: 8 kabobs.

Pointers On Meat

Remember, when meat is overcooked, it becomes dry, loses flavor and is difficult to carve. Always cook meat at a low temperature and use a meat thermometer so meat does not become too well-done.

In 3 tablespoons Spanish olive oil, saute 1/2 cup minced onion (1 small onion) and a minced garlic clove. When onion is tender, add 4 tablespoons tomato paste, 1 1/2 tablespoons capers, 1/2 cup stoned olives, either green or black, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 cup water. Simmer until thoroughly blended. Add 2 cups diced cooked pork, simmer 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Yankees Storm Back To Beat Braves For Series Crown

Bob Turley Wins In Relief, Rally In Eighth Wins, 6-2

Howard Singles In Winning Run; Bill Skowron Hits Homer

By JACK HAND

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Strong-armed Bob Turley led the revived New York Yankees to the greatest baseball comeback in 33 years Thursday as they stormed back from a 3-1 deficit to dethrone Milwaukee in the seventh game of the World Series.

Turley, working his third straight game, dazzled the Braves with a two-hit relief job over 6-2-3 innings while the Yanks clubbed Lew Burdette for a 6-2 victory.

It was sweet revenge for the Yanks, three-time losers to Burdette a year ago, as they ripped into their tormentor for four big runs in the eighth inning, breaking a 2-2 tie.

Burdette had yielded two unearned runs in the second but the Braves scored first off shaky Don Larsen and tied the score on Del Crandall's homer off Turley in the sixth.

Two men were out when the Yankee uprising started with a long double to right by Yogi Berra that just missed being a home run by about two feet. The drive bounced off a padding high on the right field barrier.

Howard Gets Single
Elston Howard fouled off one pitch and looked at a ball before he bounced a single over second base. Berra hustled home with the big winning run.

Andy Carey, hitless in 11 trips, smashed a single off Eddie Mathews' glove into short left before Bill Skowron hammered a 2-2 pitch far and away over the fence in the left center field for a 415-foot three-run homer.

Burdette bowed his head, pawed at the dirt resignedly, and finally closed out the inning by striking out Tony Kubek.

Crandall's homer with two out in the sixth was the only hit off the Yanks' 21-game winner until Joe Adcock sliced a pinch single to left with two gone in the ninth. When Mickey Mantle gathered in Red Schoendienst's fly to center for the final out, the short reign of the Braves had ended.

The Yankees, who usually take victory in stride, gathered around Turley as he walked off the mound, pounding his back, pumping his hand and yelling congratulations. The man who was yelling the most was Casey Stengel whose seventh World Series victory ties him with Joe McCarthy among the managers of all time.

Greatest Comeback
It was the greatest comeback in baseball since the 1925 Pittsburgh Pirates, after losing three out of four to Washington, closed with a rush to take three straight by beating Walter Johnson on a rain-soaked afternoon. No other club ever had overcome such a handicap in a best-of-seven series until the 1958 Yankees.

These Yankees were given up for dead, counted out beyond recall after they lost the first two games in Milwaukee.

Fans were saying this might have been the worst Yankee club ever to win an American League pennant.

Larsen's shutout in the third game eliminated any chance of a Milwaukee sweep but Warren Spahn's shutout put the Yankees down 3-1, and left them needing three straight.

Turley, knocked out in the first inning of the second game when the Braves scored seven big runs, came to the rescue in the fifth game with a five-hit shutout.

But the confident Braves headed home to the Wisconsin beer and cheese lands to close it out.

In Wednesday's sixth game, Turley had to come from the bullpen to bail out Ryne Duren when the fast-ball pitcher faltered in the 10th inning.

Meant $3,000
Turley was in the center field bull pen Thursday, with all the Yankee pitchers except Larsen, when the final game started. It meant about $3,000 to each player for a winning out will come to about $9,000 and a losing slice will be about $6,000.

Larsen staggered through the first inning, lucky to escape with only one Milwaukee run. Schoendienst singled and Billy Bruton walked. After Frank Torre sacrificed, Larsen walked Hank Aaron. The bases were loaded with only one out.

When Wes Covington grounded sharply to Skowron, the Yankee first sacker had no chance to cut down Schoendienst at the plate. He was fortunate to make the play on Covington for the second out. Stengel ordered Eddie Mathews walked intentionally loading the bases again. Larsen steadied and caught Del Crandall looking at a third strike.

Burdette could not be blamed for any of the second inning horror to the 46,367 fans. First baseman Torre messed things up all by himself.

Berra walked and Elston Howard dumped a sacrifice bunt toward first. Torre picked it up and threw behind Burdette who was covering first. Berra went all the way to third.

Torre Throws Wildly
Up came Jerry Lumpe to slam a ground ball at Torre. The first baseman looked at the plate, fearing Berra might try to score, and then threw wildly to first, plunking Lumpe. The bases were loaded with nobody out.

Berra scored while Skowron

Turley Named World Series' Most Valuable

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — New York Yankee pitcher Bob Turley, who won two games and saved a third, was named the most valuable player in the 1958 World Series and awarded a sports car by Sports Magazine.

Turley was the winning pitcher for the Yankees in relief Thursday when they beat the Milwaukee Braves, 6-2, for the championship. He held the Braves to only two hits in 6-2-3 innings.

Turley beat Milwaukee 7-0 in the fifth game and saved a 4-3, 10-inning victory Wednesday with three pitches.

Previous winners were pitchers, too. Johnny Podres of the Dodgers in 1955, Don Larsen of the Yankees in 1956 and Lew Burdette of the Braves last year.

forced Lumpe and Kubek's sacrifice fly was deep enough to bring home Howard who advanced on Skowron's play.

Stengel had to go get Larsen in the third. Bruton singled and after one man was retired, Aaron singled. Turley came in and escaped this most serious threat by getting Covington on a short roller in front of the plate. Again the orders came to pass Mathews, loading the bases to get at Crandall.

The Milwaukee catcher rammed a hard drive back to the box that Turley deflected off his glove to McDougald. Gil made a brilliant play to nip Crandall for the out.

Crandall's homer into the left field bleachers—a 330-foot blow—was the only hit off Turley until the ninth.

Valley To Seek Second Win Today, Braves At Bruce

The Valley High School Black Knights will seek their second victory in three starts this season when they host Flintstone's Aggies today at the Barton field in a Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League game.

Valley's defending champions opened the current season with a 5-0 triumph over Mt. Savage's Indians but tied Bruce last week, 1-1.

Meanwhile the Mt. Savage Braves will travel to Westernport to battle the Bruce Bulldogs in another WMI engagement. Bruce will be striving for its first win while Mt. Savage has lost twice.

Officials will be Bill Salsky and Jack Burner at Valley and Clifton Van Roby and Carl Emerick at Bruce.

Olympic Group Drops Pledge

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) —The International Olympic Committee Thursday dropped the controversial oath of amateur intention from the rules of future Olympic Games.

The new Olympic rules, published Thursday, contained a less exacting version of the amateur oath, which every athlete has to sign before being allowed to compete. At the same time, the rules for the first time challenged the amateur status of competitors whose names or pictures appear in commercial advertising—even if the publicity is unpaid.

The women's shuffleboard team of the Disabled American Veterans Club, drawing a bye in league action Wednesday, defeated the men's DAV team in a special match, 122-114.

The women shoot in the Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League while the men belong to the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League.

High scorers were Alice Wertz with 30 points for the women and "Mac" McCullough with 17 for the men.

Bauer Sisters' Father Dies

Bassey To Meet Costa On Oct. 31

New Zealand Challenges In Amateur Golf

U. S. Team Now In Third Place

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Great Britain's hardy linksmen faltered Thursday but it was New Zealand, and not the United States, which moved into stronger contention for the World Amateur Golf Championship.

As icy winds continued to blow over the rolling Old Course of St. Andrews, a New Zealand left-hander, Bob Charles, took the individual lead from Scotland's Reid Jack. And he put his country within one stroke of the front-running British.

Britain's team total after 36 holes was 461. New Zealand was second at 462, followed by the United States, with 465.

The competition for the Eisenhower Trophy is a team affair. The scores of the best three players of each country are aggregated daily. The championship will be awarded on the 72-hole aggregate Saturday.

Charles, retaining his putting poise in winds which often reached 35 mph, fired a second straight 74 for a 36-hole score of 148. He overtook Scotland's weather-hardened Jack, who could do no better than 77 after Wednesday's opening 72, for 149.

Still strong in the running for unofficial individual honors was Charlie Coe, the reed-thin U. S. amateur champion from Oklahoma City. Coe, despite some shaky putting, bracketed a 77 with a previous 74 for 151.

This placed the Oklahoman in third place in the individual race, the victor of which probably will be acclaimed the world's outstanding amateur golfer.

Other Americans fared well, but didn't score well enough to pick up much ground on the British, who led by six strokes after Wednesday's round.

William Hyndman of Philadelphia, still looking for his first birdie in the tournament, shot a 77 for 156. Scrambling Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., more serious than anyone ever had seen him, added a 78 for 158.

The fourth U.S. representative, Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., improved by two strokes with a 79. His 160 total, fourth best among the Yanks, was not counted.

Sailor's Guide Has Second Laurel Workout

LAUREL, Md. (AP) —

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Sailor's Guide, Australia's representative, is getting a head start on others for the $100,000 International horse race on Nov. 11.

He had his second serious workout Thursday on the grass at Laurel where the 1½ mile race will be run for the seventh time.

Maryland Trainer Bowes Bond sent Sailor's Guide ½ of a mile and clocked him in 1:03. Last Monday, the Australian thoroughbred went half a mile in .51 seconds.

Stanley Morris, a 20-year-old who accompanied Sailor's Guide to the United States from Melbourne, is doing the riding.

Unbeaten Handley Judges Meet Ft. Hill Here Tonight

LaSalle To Play At Keyser Today

Hunter Maddox' Handley High Judges will provide stern opposition to the Fort Hill High Sentinels here tonight in a clash of undefeated high school gridiron giants at Fort Hill stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

Coach William P. Hahn has named Bob Rowley and Tom Davis as the co-captains for Fort Hill's high-scoring eleven which has rolled over four straight opponents, tallying 177 points to the opposition's 28.

Handley, victorious over Fairfax, Warren County High of Front Royal and Frederick High's Cadets, also has a high-scoring eleven and a rugged defense. In defeating Warren County High the Judges handed Coach Eck Miers' Front Royal eleven its first defeat in 19 games, 20-0. Frederick bowed to Handley last week, 19-0.

Another schoolboy eleven will also meet a tartar today when Coach Norm Geatz' LaSalle High Explorers travel to Keyser to engage Coach Fred Clark's Golden Tornado. LaSalle bowed last week to Bedford, 19-0, and Keyser was upset by Allegany, 19-7, but the Tornado is expected to get back on the winning track in today's battle.

Other games today will find Harper's Ferry's unbeaten griders at Romney to play another undefeated area eleven, the West Virginia School for Deaf; Moorefield's Jackets will be at Franklin in a Potomac Valley Conference clash; Petersburg is at Ridgeley in another PVC engagement; Shepherdstown is at Berkeley Springs.

Night games will have Romney's Pioneers, also undefeated, at Beall High in Frostburg; Martinsburg at North Hagerstown and Westminster at Frederick, the latter two games in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League.

Outdoor Club Wins

The Cumberland Outdoor Club defeated the Hi Dee Club Wednesday night in a match in the Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League. The score was 2-1. Ruby Kerns was high scorer for the ODC with 27 points while M. Burke had 24 for Hi Dee.

Brazil enjoys the distinction of being the largest country of America.

Salisbury Ties Bobcat Booters

Bus Breakdown Mars Frostburgers' Trip

Frostburg State Teachers and Salisbury State Teachers soccer teams battled to a scoreless tie in a game played yesterday at Towson.

The hard-fought contest was a great defensive battle by both elevens with neither having many opportunities to score. Frostburg threatened three times but was unable to punch the ball through the goal posts.

Coach Kenneth Babcock said the Bobcats had only eight shots at the goal while Salisbury took 19 shots. Jim Lupis the Frostburg goalie had five saves while Muir, the Salisbury goalie, made three.

Frostburg had eight corner kicks in the contest and Salisbury took three.

Salisbury scored on a free kick but an offside penalty nullified the score.

Frostburg's trip to Towson was marred by a bus breakdown which delayed the Bobcat team and did not reach the playing field until 4:30 p.m. for a scheduled 2:30 p.m. contest. The lineups:

Lack Of Reports Hampers Ratings

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—The Activities Commission said Thursday no official ratings of West Virginia high school football teams would be compiled this week due to lack of a full report on scores of games last weekend.

A spokesman said the commission said the ratings would be resumed next week if adequate score reports are received.

Kids' Football Program Set Up At Beall

FROSTBURG — The Boosters Club of Beall High School is sponsoring a non-contact kids' football program for boys 12 years of age and under in the Frostburg area. Over 150 boys are enrolled in the program with four teams organized and a schedule of three games per team set up.

Joe McGowan and Jim Mallow are coaching the Colts; Tom Pugh the Giants; John Kreitzburg the Redskins; and Mike Fabbri the Steelers.

The league will open tonight at 7 o'clock when the Colts meet the Giants and the Steelers play the Redskins. The games will be played on Beall High athletic field prior to the Beall-Romney football game.

Each player wears a "flag" tucked under his belt at the rear and when the flag is taken from the ball carrier he is "down" at that spot. Screen-type blocking is permitted, no tackling, or blocking below the belt is allowed. It is hoped that this activity will give the boys the thrills of playing football without the body contact and actual tackling associated with the football game.

College Football In Full Sway This Weekend

LSU Meets Miami In Game Tonight

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International

The crew-cut kids, subsidized and otherwise, start the biggest weekend of the college football campaign Friday night with undefeated Louisiana State tackling Miami (Fla.) and UCLA playing host to Florida in an intersectional game.

With the World Series out of the way, the nation's sports fans can begin concentrating on football this weekend. It should be a sizzler with such "naturals" as Notre Dame-Army, Ohio State-Illinois, Pittsburgh-Michigan State and Michigan-Navy on tap Saturday.

In Friday night's top games, Louisiana State is a one-point choice for its clash with Miami in the Orange Bowl, the UCLA-Florida game is rated a tossup, and Denver is favored to whip visiting Montana in a Skyline Conference contest.

Louisiana State is a slim favorite over Miami although it has beaten Rice, Alabama and Hardin-Simmons in its first three starts. Coach Andy Gustafson's Miami Hurricanes were blanked by Wisconsin but bounced back to blow over Baylor last week.

UCLA Is A Question Mark

UCLA was supposed to field one of its best teams of recent years this season but lost to Pitt and Oregon State while defeating Illinois in its first three games. Florida opened with a victory over Tulane, then lost to Mississippi State.

Saturday's nationally televised (NBC) game will be the Ohio State-Illinois Big Ten game at Champaign, Ill. Viewers with old raccoon coats can put 'em on and relive the 1920's because Ohio State likes to run with the ball the way the colleges did 35 years ago. But there's nothing moth-eaten about Ohio State's record and the team is a seven-point choice to make Illinois its 25th conference victim in its last 27 league starts.

One of Saturday's most intriguing questions will be answered at South Bend, Ind. Coach Terry Brennan's Notre Dame team will try to provide an answer to the offensive power generated by Army's "lonely end" attack. The Cadets, with end Bill Carpenter split out 15 yards and getting secret signals without entering the huddle, have rolled over South Carolina and Penn State. Third-ranked Notre Dame is a slim, one-point choice to halt Carpenter, All-America halfback Bob Anderson and the other fourth-ranked Cadets.

Pitt Is Underdog

Another clash of highly-ranked teams pits seventh-ranked Michigan State against eighth-ranked Pitt at East Lansing, Mich. Pitt's good lines have battered U.C.L.A., Holy Cross and Minnesota into submission but the experts believe the Panthers will be outgunned by a Michigan State squad still smarting because of last week's 12-12 tie with Michigan. The odds-makers favor Michigan state by 12 points.

Michigan's fine showing last week helped make it a five-point favorite against visiting Navy at Ann Arbor, Mich., as both big Eastern service schools invade the Midwest.

Auburn, the nation's top-ranked team, visits Kentucky Saturday night and is a seven-point choice in the Southeastern Conference clash.

Duke entertains Baylor, Texas A and M visits Maryland, Boston University invades West Virginia and California plays host to Utah in other interesting intersectional games Saturday.

More Quarters At Infirmary Are Advocated

Grand Jurors Back Expansion

If a prime recommendation of the October grand jury in Allegany County Circuit Court becomes a reality, the facilities of the County Infirmary will be expanded to take care of additional patients.

That was one of the significant new proposals included in the report submitted yesterday to Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Another recommendation is that consideration be given to establishment of a detention room in the County Jail separate from the present quarters for the detention of juveniles, and abandonment of the detention room now maintained at the County Infirmary.

More lighting facilities from the basement to the first floor of the Court House and from the first to the second floor and the installation of a railing on the left side of the stairway from the first floor to the basement also were advocated by the October grand jury.

An innovation in recommendations was one for name plates for each employee at the Court House so that persons having business there may be acquainted with the individual handling various phases of the county business.

Another recommendation calls for equipping vehicles operated by the deputy sheriffs with radio equipment and for consideration of the employment of a female clerk-secretary who also could act as jail matron. A private shower room within the jail and a "drunk tank" for persons committed for being intoxicated also were proposed.

Records Needed

It was recommended further that all law enforcement officers keep records of investigations of criminal activity, including the date, time and place of investigation or inspection and present this information to each and every grand jury, effective immediately.

A number of commendations were handed out by the grand jury. Among those commended were the county commissioners, for excellent maintenance of county buildings; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Messmer, in charge at Sylvan Retreat; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grim, who are in charge at the County Infirmary and County Home; Sheriff Edward R. ## Springs Mutual Lines Sold To C&P, General

Modernization Will Cost $300,000

Shareholders of the Springs Mutual Telephone Company have voted to accept the proposals of the General Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland to purchase and rebuild the telephone system in the Springs, Pa., and Grantsville area.

The action was taken at a meeting Monday in the Springs Fellowship Center.

Officials of the C&P and General telephone firms estimate an expenditure of $300,000 will be required to provide the modern facilities which are enjoyed by surrounding communities.

Early in 1957 the membership of Springs Mutual elected Walter C. Otto, Aaron G. Miller and Homer M. Yoder as a committee to negotiate with adjoining telephone companies to replace the system which has been inadequate to meet modern communications needs.

Springs Mutual has provided telephone service in the Springs-Grantsville area since 1897. During recent years, officials said, it has been increasingly difficult for the small company to keep pace with larger companies in providing modern telephone service.

The present board of directors, Daniel H. King, president; Clemon E. Folk, vice president; Homer M. Yoder, secretary-treasurer; Merle R. Kolb and Edward J. Davis, have been retained in office until liquidation and distribution of the company's assets is completed.

Telephone crews have completed the job of installing the new cable and only the task of splicing the cable remains, Mr. Garner said. When this project is completed, it will provide major relief
